MERCY - A powerful melodic rock band founded by Singer Mercy Lee.

Mercy Lee has been on the road in England and the USA for many many years. As the singer of Intruder, a New York based band, he worked with bassist George Karak, who had composed the song "Runaway" by Bon Jovi. "Surprise Attack" is written by George in this period, and newly masterly rearranged and produced by Angi Schiliro.

"Surprise Attack" is the first release of MERCY, "Dangerous Nights" , a second song of this era, will be released soon accompanied by a Video on all social medias, mores are soon to come...an entire CD will follow this fall...

MERCY currently presents itself with the exceptional guitarist Angi Schiliro.

Angi Schiliro is internationally known as an ex-member of Kingdom Come, the platinum band around legendary singer Lenny Wolf in the USA. The Italian guitarist was also able to celebrate great success with his own bands ZEROp and Stormbringer and garner amazing reviews worldwide.

Also known as a member and songwriter for gold-winning bands such as China and Paganini, you can also hear his music in the soundtracks of several international films, one of which has even been nominated for an Oscar.

With his solo instrumental album "White Lady", Angi has been compared to the world's greatest guitar heroes and has achieved iconic status himself.

Having worked over the last few years as a songwriter and producer for various artists, Angi wants as producer and special guest of MERCY to show again on stage and live, that he hasn't forgotten none of his guitar skills.
